

Research and Due Diligence Process

The purpose of the research and due diligence process is to deliver a comprehensive suite of reliable model portfolios and investment capabilities, providing an understanding of risk-return profiles and relative performance through various market cycles so that an informed decision can be made to achieve an investor's long-term financial goals.

The investment committee vets, selects, and monitors 150+ asset managers and 1,000 investment strategies that are evaluated based on risk management, asset allocation, diversification, and historical performance.

The ongoing review of the investment mandate, the process backing it, and the performance persistency of the strategy provides valuable insight into solutions that can help meet our clients' varied investment objectives.

Application of this disciplined process ensures our firm adheres to our fiduciary duty through a consistent, defensible methodology.

Couple the research and due diligence process with our proprietary risk scoring model that focuses on our clients' feelings regarding the potential magnitude and speed of loss for a well grounded foundation to set proper client investment expectations.

This process helps our clients invest with confidence as they have the fundamental understanding of the different investment options and how they align with their financial goals, objectives, and risk tolerance.

Investing involves risk, including the potential loss of principal. No investment strategy, such as asset allocation or diversification, can guarantee a profit or protect against loss in periods of declining values. All investment strategies involve risk and have the potential for profit or loss. Changes in investment strategies, contributions or withdrawals, and economic conditions may materially affect the performance of your portfolio. There are no assurances that a portfolio will match or outperform any particular benchmark. Investors should carefully consider the investment objectives, risks, fees and expenses before investing.
