Our Approach

A dedicated approach that puts clients first...

Money is personal. We believe investors deserve a partner that will help provide them with a personalized investment experience tailored to their needs and objectives.

1 Start Smart

First, we gain a thorough understanding of each client's current financial situation, goals, and objectives, incorporating six universal considerations of holistic financial planning. At this time, we also evaluate each client's market risk tolerance, via a proprietary algorithm rooted in the well-known Value at Risk (VaR) methodology.

2 Apply Discipline

Next, we design an investment strategy that seeks to enhance our clients' wealth and mitigate risk to their finances, keeping each person's goals and objectives at the forefront of our planning process.

3 Communicate Progress

Lastly and continually, we work to maintain transparency of the investment strategy by providing visibility, proactive outreach, and accessibility to our team.

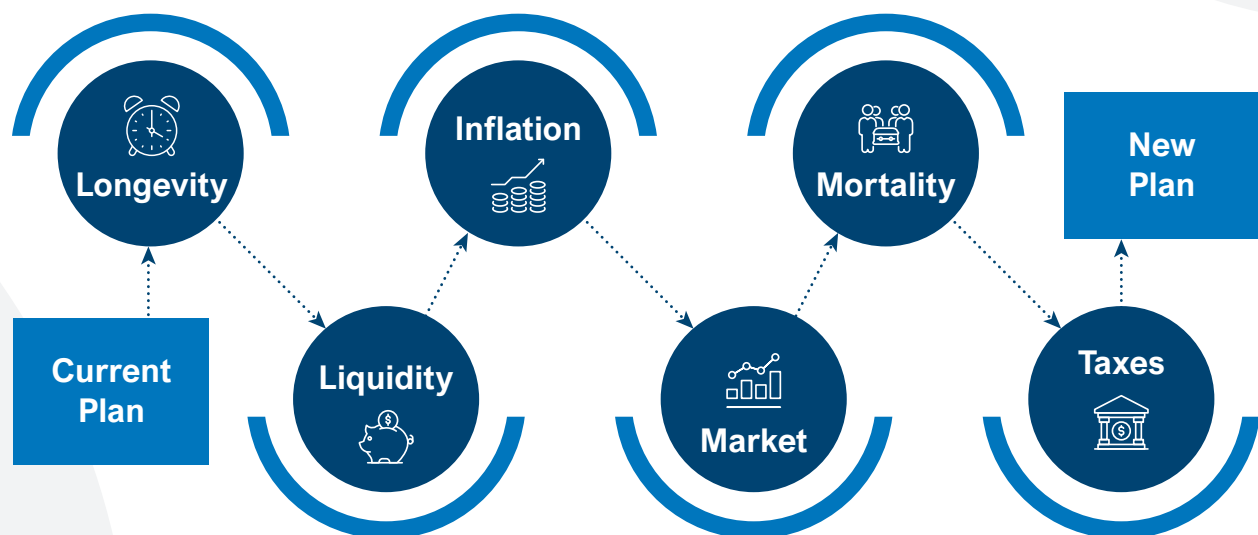

Start Smart

Starting smart begins by getting a clear understanding of an investor's current financial situation and how they would like it to progress to help meet their future lifestyle goals and objectives.

During this process we get to know our prospective clients by gathering information pertaining to their personal values, financial goals, and existing financial accounts. We also evaluate their attitudes toward six universal financial planning considerations, and conduct a Value at Risk (VaR) Analysis.

Financial Planning Considerations

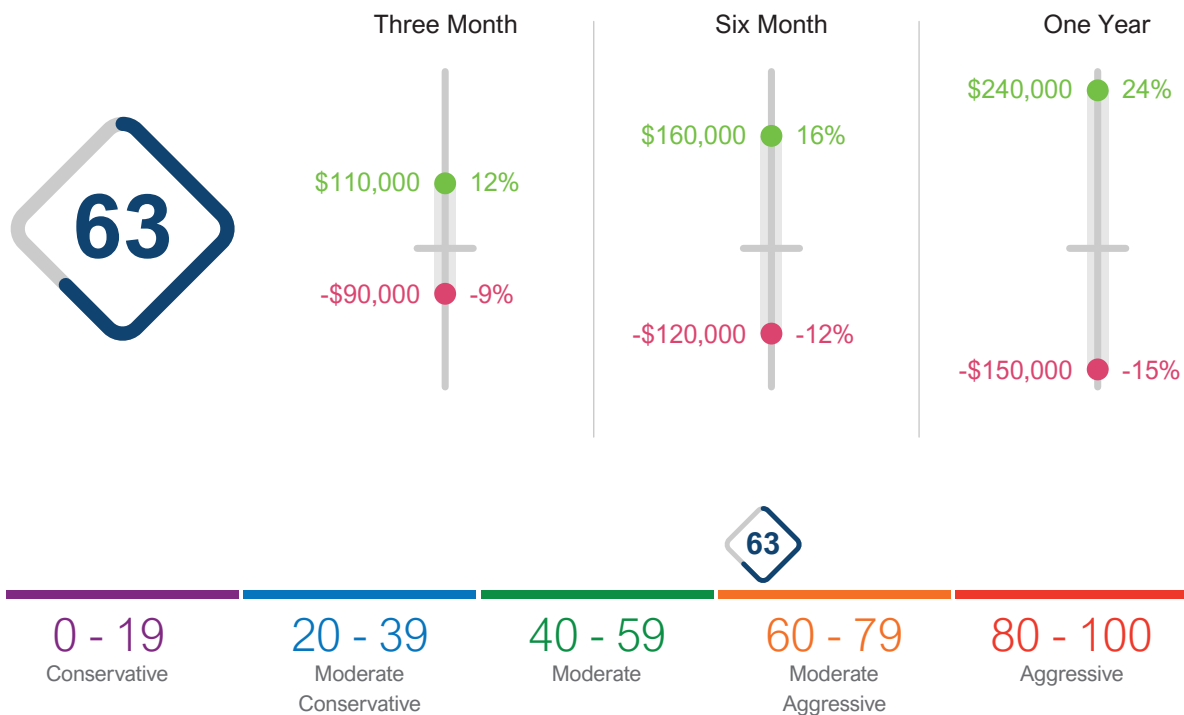

The six universal financial planning considerations are potential barriers investors may face when working toward their goals. We believe that it's important to evaluate investor sentiment towards each consideration through a succinct questionnaire. This allows us to examine the potential implications of these considerations on an investor's assets today and in the future.

Value at Risk Analysis

Within the initial review, we aim to help investors understand their risk threshold. We do this by deploying a Value at Risk (VaR) Analysis that seeks to quantify attitudes toward financial uncertainty, specifically one's emotional tolerance with respect to the magnitude and speed of potential investment loss.

This Analysis produces a VaR Score that is indexed on a scale from conservative to aggressive. The VaR Score can help evaluate if the current the current portfolio aligns with the investor's risk tolerance and provides insight as to whether changes to that portfolio may be needed.

It's important that investors understand risk tolerance so that they can help guide the development of their investment strategy and remain committed during various market cycles.

Apply Discipline

Our discipline is built on the foundation of holistic planning and how investment and insurance solutions can work in concert to help manage exposure to six universal financial planning considerations, within a desired risk tolerance, so our clients have the confidence to handle various market cycles.

This includes evaluating and incorporating strategies that aim to...

- ✓ Secure guaranteed income for life
- ✓ Structure assets for future unexpected expenses
- ✓ Protect purchasing power over time
- ✓ Align returns within desired risk tolerance
- ✓ Provide for and efficiently transfer assets to beneficiaries
- ✓ Mitigate tax liabilities throughout the investment process

A holistic strategy can help investors...

AssetLock® is tracking software used to monitor the performance of a client's household portfolio, and to predetermine the amount of downside the client is willing to tolerate. It is NOT an actual stop order and will NOT automatically sell the individual securities in the household portfolio. The AssetLock® Value is a reference point to encourage a conversation between the advisor/firm and the client to determine if the client's household portfolio should remain unchanged, reset the AssetLock® Threshold by reallocating to a different risk profile, or liquidate part or all of their household portfolio. AssetLock® will send the client and their advisor alerts when the household portfolio reaches the client's determined values, new all-time highs and/or the maximum targeted amount of downside the client is willing to accept. The client and their advisor are notified about changes in the client's household portfolio. This notification requires that the client is subscribed to receive text message and/or email alerts from AssetLock®. Message frequency varies. Standard message and data rates may apply.
